

DAREBIN CITY COUNCIL

ABORIGINAL AND TORRES STRAIT ISLANDER EMPLOYMENT STRATEGY AND ACTION PLAN 2017- 2027

V7 Proofed 24 May 2017

Statement from the Darebin Aboriginal Advisory Committee

The Darebin Aboriginal Advisory Committee (DAAC) is a collective representation of Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander men and women from the Darebin Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander community with each member representing a significant Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander or mainstream organisation.

The role of the DAAC is to bring the collective views and knowledge of both Aboriginal and Council representatives together to develop and implement key strategies and policies that will provide and account for sustainable economic outcomes for Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander people and their communities.

Both the DAAC and Council recognise the importance of this employment strategy as it is the key to providing a long term economic starting base for Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander people, in a workplace where they will feel respected, valued, culturally safe and get to share in the same opportunities for skill and career development on parity to all other peoples.

The DAAC acknowledges that employment equity is a key determinant of positive health and wellbeing and consequences that lead to a more harmonious, strong and dynamic Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander community.

Darebin is the homeland of many significant Aboriginal organisations and Council has a perfect opportunity to learn and share in the living history of both Traditional Owner groups and the many other Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander groups and nations that have now settled in Preston and contribute to the growing local economy of Darebin.

The DAAC recognises and acknowledges that there is strength in partnerships and therefore understands that this strategy is a partnership that must be tangible, challenging, long term, flexible and provide empowerment and leadership whilst delivering positive outcomes to the Aboriginal community of Darebin. This is the commitment that DAAC seeks from Council.

Statement from the Mayor

Darebin City Council acknowledges the Wurundjeri people as the Traditional Owners and custodians of this land and pays respect to Elders past and present. Council also acknowledges Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander communities' values, living culture and right to self-determination.

Darebin City Council is proud see the new Darebin Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Employment Strategy and Action Plan 2017-2027 come to life. Developed in close consultation with the DAAC and Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Community, the plan formalises Council's commitment and sets out a long-term vision aimed at building a sustainable foundation to improve employment and economic development opportunities for Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander communities in Darebin.

Council has a significant history and long standing relationship with the Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander community in Darebin. Our municipality is privileged to be home to a significant number of Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander organisations and residential population and acknowledges the significant cultural, social and economic benefits this brings to the broader community.

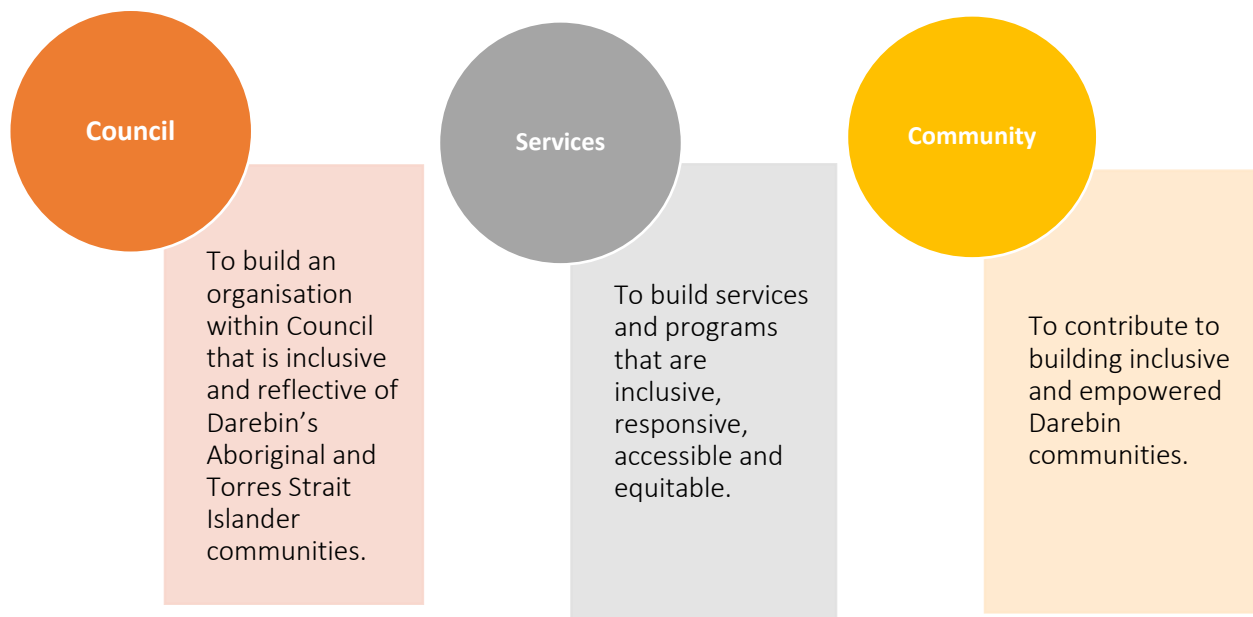

The Darebin Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Employment Strategy and Action Plan is a living plan that all employees should own. People and relationships lie at the core of this work and as such, employees at all levels of our organisation are encouraged to explore opportunities; to develop a deeper awareness and understanding of Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander culture; to familiarise yourself with the many organisations that exist within our municipality and to build relationships and working partnerships to help achieve our commitment.

Darebin City Council

Darebin City Council applies a rights-based approach across all its work to achieve improved health and wellbeing outcomes for local communities. The Darebin Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Employment Strategy and Action Plan (ESAAP) aligns with strategic priorities as outlined in our Council Plan 2017-2021 and its key equity and inclusion principals of Social justice, Accountability, Participation, Empowerment, Human rights, Diversity - ‘working with our diverse community to build a sustainable and livable City’.

The Darebin Aboriginal Action Plan 2012-2017 outlines 3 overarching goals:

Council’s principles of equity and inclusion are also reflected and advanced through the following:

- Darebin Health and Wellbeing Plan 2013-2017
- Darebin Diversity Capabilities Framework 2014-2020
- Darebin Arts Strategy 2014-2020
- Darebin Community Engagement Framework 2012-2017
- Darebin Equity and Inclusion Policy 2012-2017 under which sits the:
 - Darebin Human Rights Action Plan
 - Darebin Anti-Racism Strategy
 - Darebin Aboriginal Action Plan

The plan has a stated commitment to employment and training for Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander people as its first objective. The ESAAP is an outcome of this commitment.

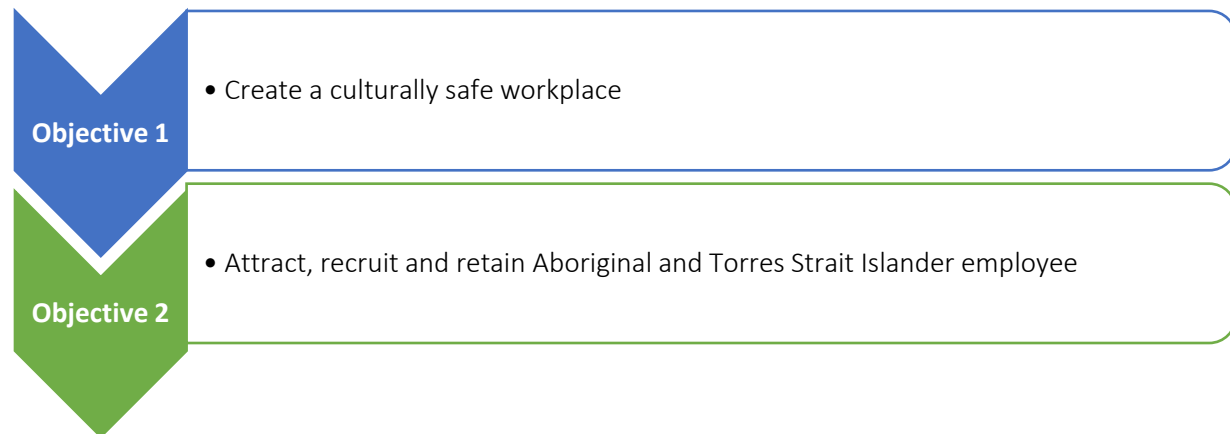

Introduction

The ESAAP is a long-term strategy aimed at building an organisational foundation to increase employment outcomes for Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander communities in Darebin. Informed by findings of consultations undertaken with the DAAC, Community members and other internal and external stakeholders, it builds on and leverages off Darebin City Council's (Council) years of building relationships and the development of collaborative partnerships supporting equity, health and wellbeing outcomes.

Strategic Actions

The Strategy is implemented across two identified actions:

Action A. Internal Focus – what we can achieve as an organisation as set out in the Action Plan objectives:

Action B. External Focus - how we can help foster and support employment and economic participation for local communities in Darebin through the following objective:

Strategic objectives

The long term strategic objectives that build long term and meaningful employment underpinning the ESAAP are to:

- Provide a supportive, safe and culturally inclusive work environment for Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander people

- Attract and recruit Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander people through providing culturally appropriate and flexible recruitment and selection processes

- Implement support mechanisms and provide flexible working arrangements and career development opportunities

- Effectively resource the strategy/action plan to ensure its sustainability and success.

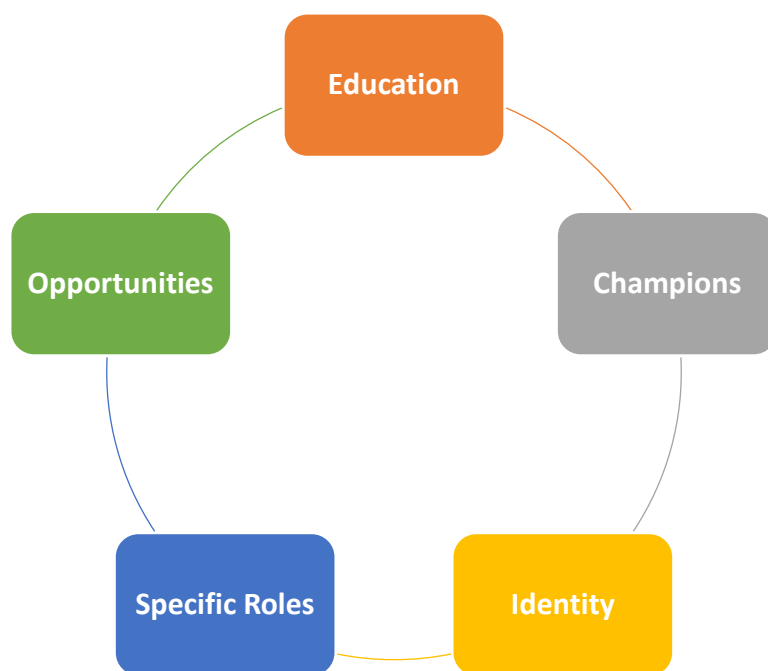

Through the development of the ESAAP, it has been acknowledged that improvements and goals are best met incrementally, so as to ensure the greatest environment of cultural safety is developed, before major efforts toward increasing the Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander workforce are undertaken. The desired outcomes and expectations demand a long-term and sustained commitment. Key priorities at the commencement of implementation lie with Cultural education and Community partnerships. It should also be noted that the implementation of the ESAAP is just one of a number of strategies and the commitment that Council has in place supporting health and wellbeing outcomes for Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander communities with clear intersection across much of this work.

The ESAAP is a whole of organisation plan and is an initiative all employees should feel proud of and own. It belongs to all employees and in and of itself demonstrates commitment and respect.

Key Consultation Themes and Findings

This ESAAP has been developed in consultation with key Council employees (Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander and non-Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander) across departments and Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander community members and organisations including the Municipal Association of Victoria. The ESAAP has a particular focus on the local Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Community and consultation with the DAAC, which plays a critical role as a bridge between Community and Council, informs strategic direction, allowing Council to take Community and Cultural guidance from local Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander people, and providing key expert advice on the implementation of Council's Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander specific projects and initiatives.

Five key themes emerged from the consultations:

EDUCATION: the level of Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Social/Cultural knowledge is currently uneven and requires a more strategic top down approach to build a culturally safe workplace for Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander people. Council leadership teams should lead by example and therefore must be culturally aware in order to advocate for Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Community improvement. Top-tier Council employees are amongst priority groups to receive regular, consistent, and ongoing education, which will build the capacity of Council to deliver high quality programs and outcomes.

CHAMPIONS: there is a need to increase the number of internal champions for Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander participation with a whole of organisation commitment to the ESAAP and Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander engagement more broadly. An increase in educated and supportive individuals within Council can shift organisational culture, as well as ensuring ongoing responsibilities are not placed on a small number of employees.

IDENTITY: the ESAAP should define who the City of Darebin is / wants to be with regard to the Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Community. The ESAAP needs a strong vision aligned to Council priorities / plans. Darebin must continue to develop a strong understanding of the Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Community, and its relevance, and particularly with regard to local Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander organisations. Strong engagement practices and an application of developing knowledge will improve Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander outcomes in Darebin.

IDENTIFIED ROLES: these are to increase the capacity to develop and drive projects and programs and reduce the burden on current Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander employees. Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander expertise is vital to improved decision-making, and is best sourced internally. More Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander-specific roles at all levels of the organisation will add great value to Darebin's initiatives, as well as providing employment opportunities for Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander people.

OPPORTUNITIES: that reach into all areas of Council will see Council become a stronger employer and Community supporter. Opportunities should be enhanced, and actively aimed at long-term high-achieving careers. Administration-based traineeships are low entry-points but important nonetheless. However, more ambitious and innovative opportunities should be enabled. Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander people must have access to safe, supported, and valuable job pathways.

These findings have helped inform this ESAAP.

Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Employment Strategy Implementation, Monitoring and Resourcing

This ESAAP is a foundational guide for the whole of Council. This first version of the ESAAP is designed as part one of two clear phases with phase 1 supported by an action plan to be reviewed after the first 12 months and adjusted as required.

The successful implementation of the ESAAP relies on the support of leadership and a commitment across Council to incorporate the ESAAP into Council's business strategy and planning processes. The successful recruitment of an Aboriginal Employment Officer, the formation of an ESAAP Working Group and provision of adequate resourcing all allow the ESAAP to be operational. DAAC must remain involved in the Working Group as the key Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Community voice in Council and receive regular progress updates as a form of monitoring and accountability.

The key objective of phase 1 is to establish a Council environment that is Culturally Aware, Culturally Safe, and has capacity to support high-level initiatives, even beyond employment. As such, this version of the ESAAP does not prescribe or set target numbers for Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander employees. Rather, it seeks to ensure that the organisations focuses on its personal growth, so as to ensure a strong foundation of Cultural Safety to be measured when this ESAAP is reviewed and the Action Plan updated to a second version after the first twelve months of implementation. The review will be subject to the direction of the ESAAP Working Group, DAAC, and other key stakeholders and will consider the impact of the ESAAP against the stated Actions and Measures. Most importantly, impacts need to incorporate the experiences of Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander employees and Community.

IMPLEMENTATION

The following stages are proposed as part of Phase 1 to be undertaken within 12 months of Council approval. Key implementation milestones include:

Stage 1

- ESAAP working group, with defined terms of reference and responsibilities, defined timelines and resource implications for measurable outcomes. Council-wide promotion of the ESAAP commences and actions commenced.

Stage 2

- All actions and responsibilities identified in the ESAAP are placed with appropriate staff and departments and supported by the working group. All associated departments are encouraged to participate in the working party, and are offered priority access to Cultural Awareness training.

There will be a six-month review, which is a checklist of achievements to date, and reflections of the efficacy of the processes from the perspective of the working group and DAAC. This review is an opportunity to fine-tune the ESAAP to better fit the capacities and needs of Council and the Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Community. This review will be completed as a facilitated workshop with key stakeholders (internal and external).

Stage 3

- The final six months of the first year will be dedicated to the ongoing support for key staff, and the continuation of the actions within the ESAAP.

Completion of Stage Three results in a Year 1 Review, which is an evaluation of the success, impact, and efficacy of the ESAAP across Darebin and the local Community. This review will be a further developed version of the six month review within two working group workshops. This review will consider the strengths and weaknesses of the processes and outcomes and discuss strategy for improvements. Most importantly, impacts will be measured by the experiences of Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander employees and Community.

The Action Plan will be refined at this 12-month milestone with any modifications/adjustments made to ensure it remains responsive. This will ensure capability for ongoing evaluation of project efficacy and success, and allow for regular revision of approaches based on evidence. Approaches are altered to best meet needs, and match capacity.

The Community will be involved at all stages of the work, via key Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander employees, DAAC membership on the ESAAP Working Group, the presentation of all reports to DAAC, and the engagement and relationships developed with local Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander organisations and Community members as part of the ESAAP implementation.

MONITORING

Ongoing monitoring of the ESAAP will be supported through Council annual reporting cycles across each department and annual reports are required for Council and the Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Community.

Over the first year, quarterly progress/information updates will be prepared for the Executive Management Team (EMT)/Managers Group. An annual progress update to EMT will be provided to ensure visibility and engagement across the organisation as the new strategy is rolled out.

Beyond this first year, the ESAAP will be reviewed by Council, via the working group, on an annual basis to measure short and longer-term outcomes and impacts and will be aligned with internal reporting mechanisms as appropriate.

RESOURCING

To adequately and effectively resource the strategy and to ensure sustainability and success of the ESAAP, the following structures and processes will be put in place:

• Aboriginal Employment Officer

In addition to generalist human resource and workforce development, the Aboriginal Employment Officer Position sitting within People and Development (Human Resources) and working across the organisation will help support implementation of the ESAAP.

• ESAAP Working Group

The achievement of key deliverables will be supported and monitored through the ESAAP Working Group. The ESAAP Working Group is not a decision-making group; rather, it is a central reference and steering group for the ESAAP. The working group will meet bi-monthly and assess progress at key stages. Overall governance and approval of the actions are the responsibility of Council's EMT which, along with the DAAC and Council, will receive half yearly progress reports.

• Council budget commitment

The People and Development Department (Human Resources) has budget responsibility and coordination of the annual corporate training program that includes the training deliverables set out in this ESAAP and coordination of mentoring programs for employees. The Department also has carriage of the Aboriginal Employment Officer position.

Individual departments are responsible for budget allocations in consultation with the ESAAP Working group and aligned with budget planning cycles.

The following tables for Objective 1, 2 & 3 shows the actions and outcomes and which department is responsible for the development of the outcomes.

Objective 1: Create a culturally safe workplace
Strategic Focus: Respect – understanding and acknowledgement

Darebin profile

The Darebin region is acknowledged as a heartland of Melbourne's Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Community. According to the 2011 Census, of the 37,990 people who identified as Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander in Victoria, 1,165 (3.04%) are residing within the City of Darebin Local Government Authority (LGA), making it the second largest Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander population of the 31 municipalities in the Greater Melbourne region.

With such a distinct and growing Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander population, Council recognises it has an obligation to maintain momentum of initiatives that support enhanced outcomes for Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander people. The presence of many key Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander organisations and centers within the LGA signifies responsibility and opportunity to engage and partner with local organisations and communities. These include:

- Aborigines Advancement League (AAL)
- Aboriginal Catholic Ministry
- Aboriginal Community Elders Service (ACES)
- Connecting Home
- Darebin Aboriginal Women's Soccer Club
- Fitzroy Stars Football & Netball Club
- Link-Up Victoria
- Minajalku Healing Centre
- Secretariat of National Aboriginal & Islander Child Care (SNAICC)
- Songlines Music Aboriginal Corporation
- Victorian Aboriginal Child Care Agency (VACCA)
- Victorian Aboriginal Community Services Association Limited (VACSAL)
- Victorian Aboriginal Education Association Inc. (VAEAI)
- Victorian Aboriginal Health Service (VAHS)
- Victorian Aboriginal Legal Service (VALS)
- Yappera Children's Service Cooperative Ltd.
- Yorta Yorta Netball Club
- 3KND Kool n Deadly Aboriginal Radio

Engagement with these organisations and an assessment of their individual relevance and importance to Council will be critical to the strengthening of Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Community outcomes and specifically, employment outcomes, as a key foundational element to the broader health, wellbeing, and equity of Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Communities.

NATIONAL

Closing the Gap

In 2008 the COAG set a target to halve the gap in Indigenous employment outcomes in Australia within a decade. As reported, no progress has been made against the target since 2008, however Indigenous employment rates are considerably higher now than they were in the early 1990s. Employment opportunities for Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander people are being generated through setting targets for government procurement, public service. There is a strong link between education and employment – at high levels of education there is virtually no employment gap between Indigenous and non-Indigenous Australians. The Australian Government Department of Families, Housing, Community Services and Indigenous Affairs is the lead agency on Closing the Gap.

The Indigenous Economic Development Strategy 2011-2018

This national strategy provides a comprehensive framework and plan for government to support improved Indigenous economic development. Actions related to skills development and jobs aim to improve job readiness, increase training and mentoring and support cultural awareness training. The strategy includes a focus on increasing public sector employment.

The National Partnership on Indigenous Economic Participation

Particularly relevant for local government, the partnership agreement commits the Australian Government and all states and territories to achieving a target of 2.6% Indigenous employment across the whole of the public sector by 2015.

The Local Government Indigenous Employment Program

In 2010, the Australian Centre of Excellence for Local Government (ACELG) released a Green Paper entitled 'Closing the gap through place based employment'. The paper argues the economic and business case for increasing Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander employment in local government and suggests the areas of leadership and management, entry level jobs, language and literacy, high demand jobs, regional cross sector approaches and Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander controlled organisations.

Reconciliation Australia

Reconciliation Australia is the peak organisation promoting reconciliation between Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander people and the broader Australian community. It works closely with the state and territory reconciliation councils, all of which are separate, independent bodies.

Kareeta Yirramboi: Victorian public sector employment and career development plan and toolkit.

This action plan includes a target of 1% Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander employment in the Victorian public sector by 2015. The plan outlines a number of strategies to increase Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander employment and is supported by an Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander employment toolkit. While local government forms a significant part of the public sector, Kareeta Yirramboi includes no reference to local government and is geared toward Victorian state government departments and agencies. Nevertheless, most of the strategies and ideas in the plan are relevant to local government.
