What support we provide:

- A stipend payment of $2000
- Up to 10 hours use of IC venues
- Peer-to-peer connections and learning opportunities
- Support from program staff
- Access supports available

What we ask:

- To be available to participate in person across the key dates of the program
- To provide a short description and an image to help communicate about your project
- To present at least one informal, publicly accessible session, in the form of your choosing
- To complete our induction and venue booking process
- To abide by our Code of Conduct.

Who can apply?

IC Open Access is open to people who live, work or study in the City of Darebin. See map of Darebin boundaries. You may wish to collaborate with people who are not Darebin-based.

People from Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander, culturally and linguistically diverse, Deaf and disabled, and LGBTIQ+ communities, women, and people experiencing financial hardship, are strongly encouraged to apply. We are seeking to engage with community members and groups who are not already engaged with the IC. Council employees are ineligible.

What can you do?

Do you have an idea which engages with one or more communities, cultures or identities that you would like to explore? We would love to hear from you. IC Open Access offers a chance for experimentation, research and development, rather than polished outcomes.

As part of the IC Open Access program, you are invited to present an informal, publicly accessible session. This is a way of sharing your ideas, inviting people into your process, or experimenting with community participation. It can take any form of your choosing and it is ok if you don't know what that might be yet.

Some examples of the types of activities that may be supported include:

- Takeover of an IC Nights event, our new monthly, social evening
- Activation of the IC Ganbu gulin ganbu wilam lounge
- Digital offering online or onsite
- Creative community-engagement
- Creative development with open rehearsal
- Local responses to place
- Critical thinking and discussion
- Climate action
- Cooking demonstrations, food-based workshops or communal meals
- Intercultural performance, music, dance, comedy, poetry or open-mic ideas
- International games
- Curated screening and discussion
- Self-care and community care practices
- Craft / making workshop
- Interfaith / intercultural events or celebrations
- Spiritually inclusive responses to the IC Reflection Room
- Intergenerational processes
- Opportunities for learning and knowledge sharing
- Facilitated mini-bus tours to cultural institutions

How will participants be selected?

At the IC we are guided by the principles of the Darebin Intercultural Centre's Programming Framework. We are seeking proposals which support the underpinning values of respect, kindness, curiosity, care, belonging and understanding between and across cultures and identities.

Participants will be selected based on how well your project:

- Develops intercultural understanding and cultivates mutual respect between people from different cultures, genders, generations, faiths and/or identities
- Involves members of communities who may experience discrimination and disadvantage
- Is accessible and engaging for Darebin's communities
- Practically fits within the venue and existing programs

What spaces and facilities are available?

The Darebin Intercultural Centre (IC) is located at 350 High St Preston, on the corner of High St and Gower St.

Our Ganbu guljin ganbu wilam lounge area is open to the public Mon-Fri 10am-4pm and has free Wi-Fi, basic tea and coffee and kitchenette, including a microwave, fridge, dishwasher, cups, plates and cutlery.

Our two function rooms, Wilam-nganjjin and Djerring ganbu, are available for hire outside of these hours. These spaces each have a projector with screen (HDMI compatible) and audio system with access to two roving microphones.

Our dedicated Reflection Room can be used for prayer, meditation, or as a sensory quiet space. The venue has two accessible, all gender bathrooms and two Augmented Hearing Loops.

We also have limited shared access to the adjacent Shire Hall, which can accommodate larger events and commercial kitchen needs.

Use of spaces will be negotiated with each program participant and after-hours use is limited. Please give some indication of your ideal times on the application.
